These standards and statutory requirements applicable to these financial statements may differ in some material respects from International Financial Reporting Standards, generally accepted accounting principles and standards of other countries. Accordingly, the accompanying consolidated interim financial statements are not intended to present SeABank's consolidated financial position, consolidated results of operations and consolidated cash flows in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and practices in countries or jurisdictions other than Vietnam. Furthermore, their utilisation is not designed for those who are not informed about Vietnamese accounting principles, procedures and practices applicable to credit institutions.

IV. Summary of significant accounting policies

The following significant accounting policies have been adopted by SeABank in the preparation of these consolidated interim financial statements.

The accounting policies that have been adopted by the Company in the preparation of these interim financial statements are consistent with those adopted in the preparation of the latest annual financial statements, except for the accounting policy on recognition of foreign exchange differences presented in Note IV.2 and Note IV.9.

1. Basis of consolidation

a) Subsidiaries

Subsidiaries are entities controlled by the Bank. Control exists when the Bank has the power to govern the financial and operating policies of an entity to obtain benefits from its activities. When assessing control, it is essential to take into account the exercisability of potential voting rights. The financial statements of the subsidiaries are included in the Bank's consolidated financial statements from the date that control commences until the date that control ceases.

b) Transactions eliminated on consolidation

Intra-group transactions and balances, and any unrealised income and expenses arising from intra-group transactions, are eliminated in preparing the consolidated financial statements. The accounting policies of subsidiaries have been also revised when necessary to ensure consistency with the accounting policies applied by the Bank.

c) Business combination

Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method as at the acquisition date, which is the date on which control is transferred to the Bank. Control exists when the Bank has the power to govern the financial and operating policies of an entity so as to obtain benefits from its activities. In assessing control, potential voting rights that are exercisable are taken into account.

Cost of a business combination (cost of the acquisition) is the aggregate amount of the fair values, at the date of exchange, of assets given, liabilities incurred or assumed, and equity instruments issued by the acquirer in exchange for control of the acquiree and any costs directly attributable to the business combination. Identifiable assets acquired, identifiable liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are recognised at fair value at the acquisition date.

Any goodwill that arises representing the excess of the cost of the acquisition over the Bank's interest in the net fair value of the identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities of the acquiree is recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position, then amortised to the consolidated statement of income (see Note IV.1(d)).

d) Goodwill

Goodwill arises from the acquisition of subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures. Goodwill is measured at cost less accumulated amortisation. Cost of goodwill represents the excess of the cost of the acquisition over the Bank's interest in the net fair value of the identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities of the acquiree.

Goodwill arising from the acquisition of subsidiaries is amortised on a straight-line basis over 10 years. Carrying value of goodwill arising is written down to recoverable amount as management determines that it is not fully recoverable.

2. Foreign currency

Foreign currency transactions

All transactions are recorded in their original currencies. Monetary items denominated in currencies other than VND are translated into VND at average exchange rate for spot selling and buying ("spot exchange rate") (gold is converted at the average buying and selling rate) of SeABank at the end of the last working day of the accounting period if the difference between this rate and the weighted average buying and selling rate of the last working day of the accounting period is less than 1%. If the difference between the average exchange rate for spot selling and buying at the end of the last working day of the accounting period and the weighted average buying and selling rate of the last working day of the accounting period is greater than or equal to 1%, SeABank shall use the weighted average buying and selling rate of the last working day of the accounting period.

Non-monetary foreign currency assets and liabilities are translated into VND using the spot exchange rates effective at the dates of the transactions.

Income and expense in foreign currencies of SeABank are translated into VND using the spot exchange rates effective at the dates of the transactions.

Foreign exchange differences arising from revaluation of monetary items denominated in foreign currencies as at the end of the interim accounting period are included in “Foreign exchange differences” under owners’ equity. Foreign exchange differences arising from revaluation of monetary items denominated in foreign currencies as at the end of the annual accounting period are recognised in the consolidated statement of income.

3. Cash and cash equivalents

28. Earnings per share

SeABank presents basic earnings per share for its ordinary shares. Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the profit or loss attributable to the ordinary shareholders of the Bank by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the period.

Diluted earnings per share are determined by adjusting the profit or loss attributable to the ordinary shareholders and the average number of ordinary shares outstanding, taking into account the effects of potential ordinary shares arising from convertible bonds and stock options. As at 30 September 2024 and for the nine-month period then ended SeABank does not have any potential ordinary shares; therefore, the presentation of diluted earnings per share is not applicable.

29. Segment reporting

A segment is a separately identifiable component of SeABank involved in the provision of related products or services (business segmenting) or the provision of products or services within one specific economic environment (geographic segmenting). Each of these segments bears different risks and benefits from the others. SeABank's primary segment reporting is based on business segments.

30. Commitments and contingent liabilities

At any point of time, SeABank has outstanding credit commitments. These commitments are approved and unutilised loans and overdraft facilities. SeABank also provides financial guarantees and letters of credit to guarantee the performance of customers to third parties. Many of the contingent liabilities and commitments will expire without any advanced payment, in whole or in part. Therefore, these commitments and contingent liabilities do not represent firmly expected future cash flows.

31. Financial instruments

Solely for the purpose of providing disclosures about the significance of financial instruments to SeABank's consolidated financial position and results of operations and the nature and extent of risk arising from financial instruments, SeABank classifies its financial instruments as follows:
